

Access Statement

Access Statement for Keith Moss Gallery

1. Introduction

We are a photographic art gallery specializing in fine art black and white images. We exhibit the work of Keith Moss, but on the odd occasion we have exhibited other artist work. We also offer family portrait photography and master classes in photography for total beginners and more advanced amateurs. Our courses specialize in shooting black and white film, processing black and white film and darkroom printing. We are based in a small rural village just outside the Victorian sea side resort of Saltburn by the Sea.

2. Pre-arrival information

Our gallery is situated on a main road although it is not very busy.

Parking: There is parking on the road side or a layby near by.

Getting here: There are bus stops just a few yards up the road, and the nearest train station is in Saltburn which is about a 10 to 15 minute journey by bus.

Entrance: We have a low threshold access door but would not be suitable for a wheelchair.

Getting around: The gallery is on two levels separated by a small step. All floors are level.

Seating: There is a sofa and chair. Both have arms.

Dogs: We welcome assistance dogs and would gladly provide a bowl of water.

Toilets: There are no public toilets.

3. Booking arrangements

There is no need to book to visit the gallery. However you can book a master class or family portrait via email or phone.

4. Arrival and car parking

Arrival : The Gallery opening times are February - December Tues - Sat. 10am - 5pm

Parking : There is on street parking a few yards from the gallery entrance.

5. On site

Entrance : The main entrance has a low threshold, although is not wide enough for a wheelchair.

Floor Plan: The gallery is spread over two floors, separated by a small step. All floors are level.

Public Transport: There is a bus service from Saltburn and bus stops just a few yards from the entrance to the gallery.

Parking : Parking is on street parking.

Seating : The gallery has a comfortable sofa & Chair, both have arms.

Dogs: Assistance dogs are welcome.
